OAKLAND MOURNS JAMES E. BLETHEN: Former Mayor and Pioneer Citizen Passes A San Francisco Chronicle (1869-Current File); Jun 24, 1909; ProQuest Historical Newspapers: San Francisco Chronicle (1865-1922) pg. 4

OAKLAND MOURNS JAMES E. BLETHEN

Former Mayor and Pioneer Citizen Passes Away at Age of Eighty-One.

FORMER MAYOR JAMES E. BLETHEN OF OAKLAND, WHO DIED YES-TERDAY.

AKLAND, June 23.-Flags, are half-mast on all the city buildhulf-mast on all the city 5.130ings to-day, to note the passing away of a former Mayor of Oakland and a pioneer of '49, James E. Biethen, who died this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. D. Dolbier, on East Sixteenth street, lacking just two days of being 81 years of age. Death was due to the infirmities of age.

Ex-Mayor Blathen was born in days of being $1 years of age. Death was due to the infirmities of age.

Ex-Mayor Blothen was born in Maine on June 25; 1823. He was rused in Dover, and learned the trade of a carpenter. Lured to this Coast by the gold excitement of '49, he worked his way as ship's carpenter on board the Golconda, which made the vovage account the Horn, arriving in San Francisco on November 21 of that year.

Finding mining not so attractive as he thought, he went into business in San Francisco, where he continued until 1861, when he soid out and purchased a ranch, where he lived until 1868. He then bought the Piones Mill, in Oakland, at the foot of Breadway. This was at the time the largest establishment of its kind in Oakland.

Ex-Mayor Blothen was twice married, first to Miss Lydia N. Fall, who died in 1867, and by whom he had six children, and Miss Goorgiett. W. Adams, daughter of a pioneer family of this city, who died in 1900, leaving three children: George W. Blothed, Mrs. F. D. Dolbier and Mrs. George A. Scott. There are two surviving Sundchildren.

He was always identified with the growth and progress of Oakland, taking an active part in public affair, He was elected Mayor of this city on tha Ropublican ticket in 1881 and succeeded himself in the office in 1823, it being the custom at that time to etect the Mayor yearly.

He belonged to Oakland Lodge, No. 183 of 188, of Masons; Orion Lodge, No. 183 of was elected anyor of this city on the Republican ticket in 1881 and succeeded himself in the office in 1822, it being the custom at that time to elect the Mayor yearly.

He belonged to Oakland Lodge, No. 183, of Masons; Orion Lodge, No. 153, of Odd Fellows; and Lodge, No. 5, of United Workmen. He was especially interested in the Odd Fellows, whose lodge meetings he attended up to his last liness,

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon at the Masonic temple, under the auspices of the Masons. After the services of the Masons. After the services there, the Odd Fellows will take charge of the body and will conduct the services at Mountain View cemetery.

If the Genry-street road should owned and operated municipally john would crop up in all parts of the city, to secure like roads at the expense of the San Francisco general taxpayer.